

Sunderland Marine

Anti-Corruption & Ethics Statement

Sunderland Marine Insurance Company Limited (the company) is committed to conducting business ethically and with integrity at all times. This commitment applies to the group's dealings with all stakeholders, policyholders, customers, third party associates, agents, subsidiaries and employees.

Sunderland Marine therefore strives to take all available measures to prevent financial crime of all types from occurring within, or being facilitated by, the group and its associates. Sunderland Marine expects its employees, and third parties who provide services to Sunderland Marine such as brokers, agents, authorised representatives, intermediaries and consultants wherever situated ("associates"), to conduct business transparently and to the highest ethical standards.

The UK Bribery Act 2010 requires all UK companies to have in place adequate procedures to prevent the company, and its associates, from offering or accepting bribes or conducting business in a corrupt manner. As such, Sunderland Marine requires all associates to have these procedures in place and to ensure that business is carried on ethically and transparently. Sunderland Marine will not do business with individuals or companies that do not meet these ethical and legal standards.

If you have any queries about Sunderland Marine's approach to bribery prevention or what measures Sunderland Marine expects its associates to have in place, please contact Sunderland Marine's compliance team at info@sunderlandmarine.com